THE TSUNAMI

~Summary~

-by Sonali Deraniyagala

Tsunami, a natural disaster caused due to earthquakes in the sea, affected many people on 26th December 2004. This chapter gives the details of the unfortunate event which occurred in some parts of India, Sri Lanka, Thailand, Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

Many people saw the tragedy happen, and some lost their near and dear ones. Some lost their shelter, others their pets. The chapter describes some of the stories which occurred at that time. It tells us how brave the people and animals were. Lucky or not, they took it in their stride and made their life better.

Here, the story of Ignesious, Sanjeev, Meghna, Almas, and Tilly were all very inspiring as even after the disaster struck, they acted according to the situation.

~Conclusion~

A tsunami is a series of waves that can move on shore rapidly, but last for several hours and flood coastal communities with little warning. Tsunamis can be triggered by a variety of geological processes such as earthquakes, landslides, volcanic eruptions, or meteorite impacts.
